ABOUT THE PHOTO: The cover of this issue features a photo of a Philippine endemic species commonly known as the white spotted flying lizard (Draco ornatus Gray, 1845). The reptile was observed perching on a tree within the forest over limestone of Paranas, Samar. The municipality is one of the study sites of Assessment and Conservation of Forest Over Limestone Ecosystem Biodiversity in Selected Municipalities of Samar Island, Philippines (CONserve-KAIGANGAN), a biodiversity research program of the University of the Philippines Los Baños (UPLB) and Samar State University (SSU).
